

You CAN afford a Christian Education at JRHS

A Christian education at Jesse Remington High School is accessible to more families. To meet this goal there are three sources of financial assistance available for eligible families:

- Education Tax Credit Scholarships (ETCs);
- Education Freedom Accounts (EFAs); and
- JRHS Financial Aid

ETC and EFA

The ETC and EFA programs are administered by the New Hampshire Children's Scholarship Fund. For more information on the eligibility requirements and process for application for these programs, please visit <https://nh.scholarshipfund.org/about/>.

JRHS Financial Aid

We recognize that families have differing means and resources available to dedicate towards Christian education, and we are committed to making the JRHS educational experience accessible to the extent possible. For families who in need of assistance beyond EFA and ETC, and also qualify, may apply to the JRHS Financial Aid Fund.

In order to receive Financial Aid from JRHS, the Board requires:

- Families must apply to the Children's Scholarship Fund of NH (ETC and EFA);
- Families must complete an application for admission, and students who may qualify for Financial Aid must meet our admissions standards set forth in our Policy and Procedure Manual;
- Families must complete our secure third-party agency, FACTS Grant and Aid application. FACTS evaluates the application based on national and regional data and makes a recommendation to the school. Their recommendation, which is based on the family's economic profile in consideration of FACTS' national assessment data, weighs heavily in determining the Financial Aid award. If you are interested in our Financial Aid program, please click here to apply through FACTS. (A $40 processing fee will be charged).

The family balance is due about 30 days before the trip. Each year we offer a domestic trip option.

Books

Families are responsible for purchasing books and the required booklist will be available by August 1, 2025. Expect book expenditure to be $300 to $500, subject to course requirements and vendor rates.

Fundraising

Fundraising events take place throughout the year to help defray tuition, athletic and overall mission trip costs. Students and families are asked to support these efforts as best they can.
